Createspace, United States, 2014. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Discussions of Part 1 of Book 5 Legal Issues in Education collaborate on such important issues as accommodating the needs of designated students, contract adherence, violation of the first amendment, and code of conduct. Discussions of Part 2 of Book 5 collaborate on policy violations in the workplace. This part discussion address a variety perspectives regarding the legal issues involved in the case of a teacher s alleged violation of current policy, resulting in his or her dismissal from his or her teaching position. Performing as an arbiter and facilitator, the governing board member and dean address whether the dismissal was justified or not and explains the part that community politics play in the decision-making process. As a plaintiff, student explains his or her view on the same issues, and a teacher-defendant attempts to defend him or herself after an evaluation of material presented by all stockholders in the case study. The plaintiff is expected to add substance by accumulating all written documentation and evidence regarding the student complaint. In response to the dean s request, the instructor also provides documented paperwork from his or her release from employment, in order to complete the due process and to present it in the second session of the hearing. Discussions of Part 3 of Book 5 collaborate on the importance and the steps of accreditation of private institutions. To recognize the guidelines and accreditation processes for private school, the National Private Schools Accreditation Alliance was contacted and requested information received. Further sections of this part provide analysis of the received material and a summary of the accreditation process. Two cases on accreditation were described, including summarizing positions of both plaintiff...
