Olin and Charles Garrison, under the auspices of an association known as the New Jersey Home for the Education and Care of Feeble-Minded Children. The objects of the school were primarily and originally to furnish asylum for mentally defective children, to give them such mental and manual training as they were capable of receiving, and to make them as comfortable and happy throughout life as possible. The humanitarian motives which led to the organization of this school home for unfortunates found expression in 1906 in the organization of a research laboratory in connection with the Training School, where accurate, comprehensive, scientific study of feeble-mindedness gives promise of invaluable revelations as to the cause of these defects, their amelioration and the methods of prevention. When we realize that there are on record upwards of 6,000 persons in the State of New Jersey alone who are markedly deficient, that the offspring of the mentally defective is most likely to be defective, and when we realize that probably a large percentage of crime and human suffering is due to the resulting irresponsibility, it is then that we recognize that the problem of human defectives is to-day the most important one before us from the moral, the social and the economic standpoint. The Vineland Training School has recognized this fact and has made decided progress looking to new light upon a most depressing factor in human progress.
