Excerpt from Cumberland University Bulletin, Lebanon, Tennessee: Register, 1919-1920 Cumberland University first opened its doors to students in September, 1842. A charter was procured in December, 1843. As at first organized the University was composed of a College of Liberal Arts and a Preparatory School. The Law School was established in 1847. Its growth from the start was remarkable, and in 1858 it was considered the second in size among the law schools of the country. The Theological School was established in 1852, but was discontinued in 1909. The School of Engineering was established in 1852, and the School of Music in 1903. When the Civil War began, the value of the buildings and apparatus belonging to the University was rated at $50,000, and the endowment at $100,000. Moreover, the University was in a most prosperous condition, the number of students in 1858 being 481. During the war the University buildings were burned the apparatus and library were destroyed, the endowment was rendered worthless, and many of the trustees and friends lost all hope of reorganization. Notwithstanding...
